MISS WANMAKER MAKES BIG DEAL

She Trades Her Cash for Prospect of Being Countess.

Special to the Eagle.

Paris, Oct. 8.—Society in the French capital displayed a lively interest yesterday in the wedding of Miss Fernanda Wanmaker, daughter of Rodman Wanmaker, and granddaughter of John Wanmaker of Philadelphia, and Arthur de Heeren, a son of Count de Heeren of Paris and Biarritz.

The wedding took place at the Wanmaker home on the Champs Elysees, and was followed by an elaborate breakfast and reception. The bride was the recipient of many magnificent and costly wedding presents. From her father she received a gorgeous tiara and necklace. Among her other presents were a necklace of emeralds with hanging emerald drops, a bracelet to match and a wonderful rope of pearls.

DOG AND PONY SHOW COMING.

Strange Friendship Between a Monkey and a Sheep—His Performing Partner.

Wanted—Someone who understands the monkey language to interpret the meaning of sheep shearing to one very sick monkey.

If Gentry Brothers, showmen, who will be in this city next Tuesday had any hope of finding a person who could fill the requirements of the above ad they would not hesitate to put the want in every paper in the United States. There is much trouble around Gentry Brothers' shows because the sheep have been sheared.

The particular case of the trouble is the fact that the science of shearing is unknown in the simian world. When Gentry Brothers bought Dooley, the trained monkey, they little thought the monkey would find an affinity in a trained sheep with the show. But Dooley likes to disport himself on the back of a sheep and for hours dig his long fingers in the thick heavy wool.

Ben, the trained sheep, never objected to that form of diversion, and hence it was that monkey and sheep became fast friends. When ever he was turned loose the monkey sought out Ben and for hours they would be together. Then the unexpected happened.

Hot weather told on the sheep with Gentry Brothers' shows. The animals were taken out one afternoon and sheared. The shearing performance was not very welcome to them, but the relief from their heavy coats of wool was a boon. That night all was made ready for the show. Dooley was dressed in his high hat and Prince Albert coat when the sheep were brought in to the dressing room. Shorn of their wool they looked strange to him. He thought they were intruders. The monkey does not recognize his old friend Ben in his new dress, and feeling that he has lost his best friend the monkey is dying of a broken heart. Gentry Bros. will appear here on next Tuesday, Oct. 12.

ANOTHER DANGEROUS CROSSING.

The reporters attention was directed today to another dangerous plank crossing and went in person and examined it and found it to be as represented. It is the crossing from the rear of Smith's drug store to the rear of Rohde's saloon. It is in a bad fix and is dangerous. Some of the planks are loose, and others are so worn that they have great holes between them wide enough for a horse's foot to go through. Somebody's horse is liable to get badly crippled here and the city is liable to another damage suit. The Eagle does not call attention to these bad crossings in a spirit of criticism, but simply to direct attention to them believing that they will be fixed at once. The Eagle has called attention to these places before and the authorities have been prompt in fixing them and we do not doubt they will do so in this instance.

GALVESTON WANTS THAT BIG BOUT

Move to Have Johnson Fight in His Home Town.

Special to the Eagle.

Galveston, Texas, October 8.—A movement has been inaugurated by sporting men of Galveston looking to having the Jeffries-Johnson fight pulled off here. It is proposed to erect a pavilion, without a roof on the jet-ties, five or six miles from land, to accommodate from 6000 to 10,000 people.

Another proposition being considered with a view to evading the law is to organize and charter a club and lease the auditorium on the beach and give the exhibition for members only.

Definite plans are held up pending a reply to a message sent to Jack Johnson asking him if he would come to Galveston.

WILL MOVE BETHEL CHURCH.

New Church to be Located at Harvey Which is Nearer the Center of the Community.

After more than forty years the old Bethel Baptist church is to be removed from the old location out to the stores at Harvey, which is more accessible and nearer the center of the community.

Bethel church is one of the oldest Baptist churches in the county, and ranks with old Tryon church near Kurten and Rectors Chapel south of the College. It is doubtful if any of the charter members are now living.

The late Dr. F. M. Law was one of the early pastors of Bethel church, and the first sermon this writer ever heard Dr. Law preach was at Bethel church thirty-five years ago, from the text: "Let whomsoever will take of the water of life freely."

Many stirring revivals have been conducted there, many of the best people who ever lived in Brazos county have worshipped at the old church, and many of the pioneer citizens of the county sleep in the old cemetery there.

Many tender sentiments cling to the old church and the church yard, but these must give way to modern civilization which demands economy of time and distance, and the old church must take its place with the things that once were and now are not.

A resolution was passed by the members of the church in conference assembled to change the location and also to erect a new building. Committees were appointed as follows:

Building—W. D. Yardley, J. T. Fuller, H. F. Todd, E. U. Peters, and J. R. Pate.

Finance—T. A. Hensarling, T. A. Bullock, Miss Maggie Jones, Mrs. Dula McCulloch, C. S. Jones, Miss Bessie Hensarling, Rev. G. A. Foster, Miss Addie Todd, J. D. Goen, Miss Stella Fuller, Miss May Andrews and J. H. Reed.

Some of the members of the committee were in the city today arranging the preliminaries and getting everything in readiness to begin the actual building campaign.

THE DEMONS POWER.

This powerful play that made such a deep impression on the audience one night this week as presented by the Harrison Theater Company, will be repeated at the Tent tonight. It is a great play, abounding in pathos and sentiment and points to many splendid lessons. It has a fine moral. It was necessary to repeat one of the plays tonight, and Mr. Harrison left it to a vote of the audience last night and the Demons Power was selected by a large majority.

The "Mysterious Miss Creighton" was the bill last night and the tent was filled to overflowing. This is indeed a strong play and the opening scene was one of the prettiest ever shown in Bryan. The stage settings and the costumes of the players were simply magnificent and were warmly praised. The $750 gown worn by Mrs. Harrison was much admired by the ladies. It was indeed a splendid creation and has to be seen to be fully appreciated. Mr. Harrison asks the Eagle to state that the ladies will be given an opportunity to inspect the gown after the matinee tomorrow afternoon.

The bill for tomorrow night which closes the engagement, will be the "Counterfeiters Daughter."

FOOTBALL TOMORROW.

There will be a game of football tomorrow afternoon between Texas Christian University of Waco and A. and M. The Christian University is said to have a fine team and as the A. and M. team is fast rounding into shape, all who go may expect a fine game. A. and M. defeated Austin College of Sherman on last Saturday 17 to 0, but they are going up against a much tougher proposition this time and the Waco team is expected to give the Farmers a run for their money. As Old Lem Jucklin said it is going to be a "fight to a finish," and no doubt a large crowd will go out from Bryan to root for the red and white.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

The Rev. William Wesley Daup, his sister, Mrs. H. W. Corey, and three nieces, arrived in Bryan, Saturday, Oct. 2nd. Mr. Daup served as Curate in Trinity Episcopal church, Fort Wayne, Indiana more than two years. He has accepted the call from the Vestry of St. Andrews' church to become its Rector, and entered upon his duties Sunday, October 3rd.

A meeting of St. Andrews Guild was held at the home of Mrs. J. W. English on Monday afternoon, when the annual election of officers took place resulting in the following elections:

President, Mrs. Tyler Haswell; Vice-President, Mrs. T. K. Lawrence, Secretary, Mrs. J. B. Hines; Treasurer, Mrs. J. W. English.

The vestry of St. Andrews' Guild held a special meeting Tuesday morning at the City National bank. The Rector, addressed the vestry in a few words in which he expressed the wish of having their most earnest co-operation in the work for the coming year; that the temporal affairs of the Parish was a matter of serious business; that the highest power and possibilities of a successful church resided in the vestry, and that he, in turn, was willing to spend and be spent for the upbuilding of Christ's Glorious Kingdom on earth.

ATTENTION W. O. W.

Regular meeting tonight at 8:00. A good attendance is desired and visiting Sovereigns invited to attend. T. A. Satterwhite, C. C.
